A FRIENDLY SUPPLIER FOR OUR CUSTOMERS

Mega Controls Limited was founded in Hong Kong Special Administrative Region in 1992 for serving the heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) controls industry in Hong Kong, Macau and China. Mega Controls has been a leading supplier in temperature controls for over 18 years, providing modern environmental comfort in commercial, industrial and residential buildings. Its expertise in zone valve installations has assured comfort temperature control for tens of thousand of individual room occupants in hotels and motels, apartment and office buildings, homes, industrial plants, hospitals and schools with centrally-supplied heated and/or chilled water.

As time went on, Mega Controls saw a continuously growing need in the zone valve world markets and decided to expand its operation to include manufacturing of zone valves and room temperature controllers. Mega Controls has had extensive control design and application experience and a wide range of manufacturing capabilities, with strategic ongoing recruitment of top design and development engineers from the valve and electrical industries. Our competitive edge is to handle custom variations to existing products. In addition to our standard product lines, we offer proprietary design and joint development programs. We also work closely with original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) and brand name holders to develop controls that add value to their products by improving performance, reliability and ease of operation.

Mega Controls brings to its customers many years of combined experience in all aspects of the HVAC industry from product development and engineering to manufacturing and sales. This combined experience and dedication to product quality has earned Mega Controls the reputation for reliability and longevity in its product line.

Believing that product applications are as important as the products we manufacture, every Mega Controls professional is technically-driven and product-oriented. At Mega Controls, we are dedicated to manufacturing quality products and providing each customer with cost-effective high-performance HVAC control solutions, backed by excellent service and delivery from our suppliers. Mega Controls' 100% testing on all our products ensures our commitment to provide the best zone valves available today in the HVAC industry.
